Don't y let's not

Una prohibición o una propuesta que nos incluye

Don't introduce una prohibición dirigida a otra persona: Don't run, no corras. Let's not propone evitar una acción juntos, incluida la persona que habla: Let's not run, no corramos. El verbo ya está escrito. Si el texto presenta la acción solo para la otra persona, usa Don't; si presenta una acción conjunta que incluye a quien habla, usa Let's not. Las dos formas llevan apóstrofo y empiezan con mayúscula aquí.

Ejemplo resuelto
