It impersonal

It y It's para el tiempo atmosférico

Para decir qué tiempo hace, usamos it aunque no hablemos de una persona ni de una cosa: It is cold, hace frío. It is se puede acortar a It's. Si is ya está escrito, solo falta It. Si faltan las dos palabras, aquí usamos It's. También decimos It's raining, está lloviendo, e It's snowing, está nevando. No usamos there para decir que hace frío o que está lloviendo.

Ejemplo resuelto

____ is sunny today. → It is sunny today.
