Presente simple afirmativo

Frecuencia: always y never antes del verbo

Always significa siempre: ocurre en todas las ocasiones de las que hablamos. Never significa nunca: no ocurre en ninguna. En estas frases van antes del verbo de acción: I always read; she never swims. Never ya expresa la negación y no añadimos not. El verbo conserva su forma de presente simple: he never plays. Con be, la posición habitual es distinta: She is always ready. Aquí practicamos solo verbos de acción.
