Presente simple: tercera persona

Sujeto singular con palabras entre sujeto y verbo

El verbo concuerda con quien hace la acción. The teacher with the red glasses significa el profesor o la profesora con las gafas rojas: teacher sigue siendo singular, aunque glasses sea plural. Por eso decimos The teacher with the red glasses reads. En estos huecos, el sujeto tiene un nombre singular y requiere la forma de he, she o it. Las palabras que lo describen no lo convierten en plural. Recuerda también has, does y goes.
