Pasados regulares: escritura y sonidos

Pasados regulares: escritura y sonidos

La escritura y el sonido son cosas distintas. Ed suena /t/ en worked, /d/ en played y /ɪd/ en wanted. Solo añade una sílaba tras sonido /t/ o /d/: wanted, needed. Puede sonar también /əd/. Para escribir: normalmente ed; tras e, solo d; consonante + y pasa a ied; vocal + y mantiene y. En stop y plan duplicamos la consonante final. Usa el verbo principal de la primera frase.
